NON-UNION MEN DYNAMITED.

14 COLORADO STRIKE BREAKERS KILLED BY MINERS.

Several Seriously Injured-Removal of Officials Causes Attack on Mine Owners' Mass Meeting, in Which One is Shot nead and Seven Are Injured.

VICTOR, Col., June 6 .- Fourteen strike breakers who had been employed in the mines here were killed early this morning by the explosion of a dynamite bomb under the railroad station platform on which they were standing.

As a result of the outrage the sheriff and city marshal, both of whom were noted for their sympathy with the Miners' Union, were removed from office and a new force of deputies and policemen was appointed. These changes were the cause of more bloodshed.

This evening, while the secretary of the Mine Owners' Association was addressing a citizens' mass meeting in the street, shots were fired from the Miners' Union Hall, killing Roxey McGee, wounding Attorney S. D. Cramp, the Governor's special representative; Peter Fleming, Fred Sturdevoss William Hoskins, Alfred Miller, J. D. Davis and a woman whose name is un-

Capt. Moore, with the Victor company of State militia, when his efforts to search the miner's union hall were resisted and his company fired on, poured volley after volley into the hall until a white flag was shown and the union men marched down stairs with hands up.

An assassin crouched in the cribhouse of the Delmonico mine this morning at 2 o'clock, and when he heard the whistle of an engine on the Florence and Cripple Creek Railroad, he touched an electric button and a second later fourteen men were dead, five were mangled and torn so that they will die, while a dozen more were groaning on the ground from bruises, burns and cuts.

The platform on which strike breakers were standing had been blown up by dynamite. The men were employed in the Findley mine and had just come off the night shift to take the train for home.

The dead are: Gus Augustine, Arthur Muhleise, Henry Hagat, Alender McLane, Charles E. Barber, Herbert McCoy, J. H. Hartsell, William Shanklin, E. Kelso, W. W. Delaney, Edward Ross and E. H. Johnson. The bodies of Ross and Kelso are so herribly mutilated that their identification has not been complete.

The most seriously injured are Dan Gainey, Clarence Allen, Phil Chandler, J. A. Brooker, Edward Holland, John Pollice and Tom Sinclair Holland and Sinclair are in a critical condition. Amputation has been performed upon some of the wounded, and it is almost certain that several will die. The infernal machine which caused the explosion was one of the most simple ever constructed for such a horrible purpose It consisted of a loaded revolver with a long. lander steel wire attached to the trigger. The revolver was fastened to the ground or that the pulling of the trigger would not more $6. The wire ran from under the depot to the cribbing of the Delmonico preparty, about 400 feet away, and its end was fastened to a chain.

After the explosion the streets were immediately filled with armed men, and the perpetrators of the outrage would have been mptly lynched had they been found. As the news spread throughout the district armed men poured into the city from all quarters. Nearly half of them were strikand strike sympathizers, who made their headquarters at the Miners' Union

While the mine owners and others were earing for the injured and preparing the dead for burial, all the mines in the district were cleared and the Mine Owners' Association held a meeting, which was attended by the County Commissioners and the Mayor.

Sheriff Robertson was summoned and forced to resign, the Commissioners appointing Edward Bell Sheriff. City Marshal McConnell was deposed and Major Navlor appointed Marshal.

When this news reached the strikers they made grave threats and when the mine owners called the mass meeting they declared they would break it up.

When the meeting in the street was called to order Secretary Hamlin of the Mine Owners' Association made a short address, closing as follows: "I want to hear what the boys in the mines have got to say about this trouble.' William Hoskins, a union miner from Goldfield, threw up his hands and shouted: "Let me talk."

At this the crowd began to hiss Hoekins and cry "Put him out." A free-for-all fight followed and at least forty shots were fired.

Roxy McGee was killed, Hoskins fell with a bullet in his body and the crewd scattered in every direction. Secretary Hamlin, who had been standing on a wagon, kept on talking, unmindful of the hailstorm of bullets.

McConnell, the deposed City Marshal, was a leader in the attack upon the meeting, and is in the bull pen with the strikers and rioters arrested to-day. There is intense excitement, and a pitched battle seems imminent at any moment.

WOMAN CAPTURES ROBBERS.

She Found Two in Her House, Grabbed and

Held Them Until Assistance Arrived. NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 6.-In a handto-hand conflict with two robbers she found in possession of her home early last evening Mrs. Fred L. Snow captured both men and held them until the arrival of the police. Mrs. Snow is about 28 years old. She left

Mrs. Snow is about 28 years old. She left her house at about dark to make a call on a neighbor. The thieves were evidently watching, for when Mrs. Snow returned fifteen minutes later entrance had been gained by forcing a rear window and both men were in the kitchen.

Mrs. Snow grabbed both men and for several minutes there was a lively scuffle. The robbers endeavored to break away and upset tables and chairs in their efforts to shake off the women. Neighbors hearing the racket went to the rescue, and as they started to pinion one man Mrs. Snow released her grip on the other and he broke away. Leaving the captured thief in the hands of several men Mrs. Snow dashed out of the house in pursuit of the other. For several blocks the chase was kept up, and then men who heard Mrs. Snow's cries headed off the fleeing man and led him back to the house

VICE-PRESIDENT ELDRIDGE SHOT. Mortally Wounded While Entering the

Offices of the Cane Belt Railroad. Houston, Tex., June 6.-William T. Eldridge, vice-president and general manager of the Cane Belt Railway, was shot twice this evening while entering the general offices of the company at Eagle Lake. A man in ambush at the foot of a stairway did the deed. One bullet penetrated the left breast, passing through the lung and almost through the body. The second shattered the left hand.

The wouldbe murderer made a dash for liberty and in the excitement got away. To-night Mr. Eldridge still lives, but hopes are meagre for his recovery. A special train bearing surgeons and officers of the Cane Belt Railway left for the scene of the tragedy. Eldridge is one of the best known railway men in Texas. By rigid management he has made of the road a splendid paying piece of property, but has made enemies among the directors. The strongest opposition to his policy was Capt. William Dunovan, planter, capitalist and large shareholder and a director in the company.

After a bitter quarrel they parted eighteen months ago with the tacit understanding that their next meeting would be the signal for the death of one or the other. They next came face to face in a passenger train en route to this city. As soon as their eyes met each went for his gun. Eldridge was the quickest. After the smoke rolled away Capt. Dunovant lay dying.

Since then Eldridge has been repeatedly warned that he would be murdered and the tragedy of to-day has not been unexpected by his friends. An attempt to assassinate him was made six months ago. Eldridge was entering his home near midnight and a load of buckshot grazed his head and shattered the door. Late to-night an arrest has been made and it is believed the guilty party is held.

RADIUM IN THE HOT-SPRINGS. Experiments With the Arkansas Waters

Lead Government to Investigate. Hor Springs, Ark., June 6 .- The United States Government has engaged Prof. Bertram B. Boltwood, Ph. D., and Prof. J. Joseph Hyde Pratt, Ph. D., of New Haven, Conn., to make a thorough investigation of the famous jet waters here to ascertain what radium qualities are contained in

This action was brought about by recent experiments under the supervision of the superintendent of the Government reservation which proved highly satisfactory That radio-activity exists in the hot waters here has long been suspected, and experiments have been constantly going on. Recently a sersitized photographic plate was adjusted between two lettered brass stencil plates and lowered in the hot water. The experiment was carried on in a dark cavers in the rear of a local bath house. The plates were thoroughly wrapped in several folds of thick black paper, enclosed in a dark stained glass bottle wrapped in several thicknesses of cloth, thus shutting out every particle of light, and then lowered into the dark pool. A few hours sufficed to bring forth a perfect negative, which is now on exhibition.

The experiment shows beyond doubt that radio-activity is contained in the waters, and future experiments are expected to establish the fact beyond doubt. Prof. The dynamiter had placed the powder close to the muzzle of the gun, and when he pulled the wire the ball from the revolver assisted the Government superintendent ts. He says there i doubt of the existence of radium in the local

PHIPPS TO SUE FOR DIVORCE. He Intends to Remain in Denver Until His Affairs Are Settled.

DENVER, June 6 .- Lawrence Cowless Phipps, multimillionaire and philanthropist, man of the world and bon vivant, is to institute divorce proceedings against his wife, Genevieve Chandler Phipps. This announcement was authorized by a confidant of Mr. Phipps. The children Mr. Phipps took from their mother in New York will be sent to the mountains for the summer. Mr. Phipps expects to remain in Denver until his affairs have been settled. He has planned to take a long rest. and he needs it badly," said a friend.

A prominent citizen of Denver, who is intimate with the Phipps family, declares that Phipps has always been subject to jealousy, and that Dr. Gallagher of Denver ceased attending Mrs. Phipps and calling at the house as soon as he learned that Phipps was jealous. It is also said by this friend that Mrs. Phipps was adopted by a Pittsburg family when young and grew up with two boys whom she regarded as brothers. She was very fond of them and when she continued her sisterly conduct after marriage Phipps became jealous and the first separation was on this account. While the Denver friend believes there was nothing wrong, he says that when Phipps learned a week ago that one of the brothers was at the same hotel with Mrs. Phipps in New York he hastened there and took the children away.

BAD BILLS AT THE RACES. Counterfeiter Works Off on the Bookles

Nine $100 Notes. The bookmakers at the Gravesend racetrack discovered yesterday that in the rush on Saturday some one distributed counterfeit one hundred dollar bills among them. An examination yesterday resulted in nine of the "phony" bills being found. John A. Drake, the Western turfman, got one of the fake certificates in the harves he reaped. Mr. Drake was so lucky that he didn't take the trouble to test all the money he took from the bookmakers. The counterfeit notes were turned over to Pinkerton agents, who took them to the Treasury offices here. Secret Service Agent Flynn and his assistants were put on the case and are now looking for the counterfeiters. From the remarks of Agent Flynn last night it might be deduced that the bookmakers were unusually eager in grabbing money. Said Mr. Flynn: "The bills are counterfelt gold certificates and are what we call a fair imitation; that is, they are not examples of clever workmanship. An expert money handler would have spotted them quick." The bills bear the engraving of Thomas H. Benton and are numbered in the series of C 424-863 B. When the bookmakers talked over their loss yesterday, several remembered having accepted one hundred dollar bills from a man whose appearance wasn't in keeping with one who usually carried such sums. The man, it was also remembered, made small bets and received

CAR RAMS LADEN AMBULANCE

SURGEON'S SKULL FRACTURED; PATIENT BADLY HURT.

Dr. Harold Pearson Dying, It Seemed at the Hospital-Motorman Mobbed-Pellee Reserves Out to Save Him From Rough Usage-Not First Wreck at That Spot.

A. H. Swart of Washington, D. C. who has been staying at the Park Avenue Hotel far several days, slipped on the marble steps in the hotel corridor last night. He received several scalp wounds in the fall, and an ambulance was called from Bellevue. Dr. Harold Pearson responded with Thomas Coughlin driving. Dr. Pearson took Swart into the ambulance and started for Bellevue through Thirty-second street. This was at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

At Third avenue a northbound trolley car struck the ambulance. Dr. Pearson was knocked off the step and thrown twenty feet. He struck the pavement, fracturing his skull and sustaining severe internal injuries.

Driver Coughlin was thrown over the horse's head, but was not badly hurt. He jumped back on his seat and remained there for an hour until the wrecked ambulance was moved off the track. The patient, Swart, remained in the ambulance. When he finally reached Bellevue he had internal injuries and a new scalp wound which Manager Green of the Park Avenue Hotel said were not received from his fall on the marble steps. A crowd quickly collected at the scene of the accident and threatened Claude Morris of 301 East Sixty-first street, motorman of the car which ran into the ambulance. The police had to take him into a nearby saloon to get him away.

Policeman Meoney of the East Thirty-fifth street station sent a call for the reserves as soon as he saw how big a crowd was assembling. Presently the crowd became so large that reserves from other precincts had to be called. Two ambulances arrived from Bellevus in charge of Drs. Blackwell and Warren and took Dr. Pearson and Swart to the hespital.

Coughlin insisted on leading his horse back. He is the oldest driver in Bellevue and it was his first accident. He was badly bruised. Dr. Warren, who went to help the victims of the accident, was himself injured in the same sort of a smashup at the same place a year ago last Sunday. It was several months before he recovered. The ambulance smashed last night was that which the railroad company gave to the hospital after the former ac-It was said at Bellevue at 1:30 o'clock this morning that Dr. Pearson had a compound fracture of the skull and was not expected to live. He comes from Tuscaloosa, Ala., and is a graduate of Alabama University and of the Cornell medical school in the class of '03.

CAME LONG WAY NOT TO WED. Armentan Girl Will Go Back Rather Than

De Pat Man's Bride. A slim, pretty Armenian girl, travelling alone, arrived several days ago and was detained at Ellis Island. She said that she expected to go to a city in the northern part of the State to marry her lover, whom she had not seen in four years. She was told that she would not be permitted to leave the Island except as the wife of the young man, and that a despatch would be sent to him to come down. He came by the first train next day and expressed an enthusiastic willingness to marry the girl and take her away with him. But the girl was more than coy. In fact, she finally declared that she would not marry the young man. She was asked why she had changed her mind, and she said that her lover did not look the same to her as he had looked in Armenia. He had change i very much. In the first place, he was too fat, and in the next place-Well, she did not want to marry him.

She was told that if she did not she would have to return to Armenia. She looked ver her fat lover once more, and then shaking her head with some appearance of sadness, remarked, "No; I cannot do it; I would rather go back to Armenia." The fat lover pleaded with her, but she was obdurate, and he went back to his home

up the State. ROBBERS OVERCOME A WOMAN. Freight Bills Calling for Goods in Several

Cities Found on One of Them. PITTSBURG, June 6 .- Mrs. Frank Smegley. f 616 Preble avenue, was making her beds this morning when two robbers entered the room. One of them told her they had just dropped in to look around and if she made an outery they would choke her life out. She screamed, and one of the robbers threw her across a chair and held his hand over her mouth. The other thief then ransacked the house getting money and jewelry. Mrs. Smegley followed them when they left the house and her screams attracted a number of people. William Connors, one of the robbers, was captured after a short chase. On him were found freight bills which called for goods in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and other cities.

AUTO ABLAZE IN STREET.

Brooklyn Firemen Get a New Kind of Job, but Make Quick Work of It. It took half a dozen firemen with chemical extinguishers to put out a fire which ruined a big automobile in Clinton street, Brooklyn, at 9 o'clock last night. The machine was the property of Dr. C. W. Barton of 550 Pacific street.

When Dr. Barton started out in the auto

he found that the gasolene tank leaked. He ran it to a repair shop at Clinton and Fulton streets, where it was patched up. He started again, but a block from the repair shop the gasolene flared up in a blaze. loctor pulled up in a hurry and jumped. By the time firemen from Engine Company 105 got there the machine was burning briskly. The street was blocked for half an hour and several thousand people watched the firemen at their rather unusual job. The damage was $1,000

Girl Blown Off a Roof.

Florence Hayes, 18 years old, who lives on the Hudson Boulevard in North Berger, went to the roof of an extension at her home during Sunday evening's storm. A vio-lent gust of wind blew her off the root. She fell twenty feet and was picked up unconscious. Her legs were fractured near the ankles. She was taken to the North Hudson Hospital.

Italian Boy on a Bioyole Swerves in Front of It at Tuxedo.

TUXEDO PARK, N. Y., June 6 .- While out touring in her automobile late yester-day afternoon, Miss Eloise L. Breese, a resident of the Tuxedo Park society colony, with a party of guests ran down and killed Thomas Matze, a 17-year-old Italian boy, who was riding a bicycle near the outskirts of Tuxedo Park. It proved to be accidental, according to eyewitnesses and the verdict of the Coroner's inquest held in Suffern to-day. The Breese party were returning from their trip and slowly climbing the hill near Dr. John Gillett's, on the Sloatsburg road, when the Italian bicycle rider was seen ahead. Mutze seemed to be just learning to ride a bicycle and he seemed uncertain of his mount when he started down the hill. According to testimony of eyewitnesses, his speed increased as he neared the big red automobile and his bicycle was wabbling from side to side. It was evident that he had lost control of the machine, for it made a flying sweep in front of the automobile and the boy was struck and knocked against the fence.

Miss Breese and her friends went to him and found him dead. His body was placed in the automobile and carried to the Suffern

Hospital. Miss Breese opened her summer residence in Tuxede Park two weeks ago and was entertaining a party of friends over Sunday. She is a sister of James L. Breese of New York. The boy resided with his father in the Italian quarter of Tuxedo

YOUNG THAW LOST $15,000? His Name is Mentioned in Court in a Pitte-

burg Gambling House Inquiry. PITTSBURG, June 6.-When criminal court was opened this morning a sensation was sprung by Assistant District Attorney John Robb, Jr. When Constable Peter Nock of the Fourth Ward was called upon to make his quarterly report, the first question put to him was: "Do you know No. 409 Penn avenue?"

Bracing himself he said: "Yes, sir." 'Isn't it a gambling house?"

"Not that I know of." "Did you not hear that William Thaw, Jr., lost $15,000 there about two weeks ago?" "No, sir, I never heard a word of it until

I got your letter." "Did you not hear of a loss of $4,000 about three weeks ago by Dallas Byers in that "No, sir, I did not."

"Do you know of a man named Steve Trentor? "I have heard of him, but I do not know a Cent-Earn Their Living on the Way. OGDENSBURG, N. Y., June 6 .- Two young men, sons of well known New Yorkers, have arrived at Saranac Lake in the Adirondack Mountains, having walked all the way from New York. They are Wilfred Walker, son of John Brisben Walker, publisher of the Communication Management lisher of the Comopolitan Magazine, and Carlisle Norwood, Jr., son of the president of the Niagara Insurance Company of New

The young travellers were dusty and sunburned. They were lightly dressed and wore no coats. One carried an army blanket rolled in the regulation manner over his houlders and the other had a canvas knapsack strapped to his back. They left New York without any money and worked at odd jobs on the way. They were well received by the farmers along the route and slept outdoors only two nights. They will spend the summer at Saranac and expect to earn enough to pay their expenses.

HORSES RACE FAST TRAIN. Persist in Galloping Ahead of the Loc

motive Until Lasso Stops 'Em. POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 6 .- A pair of frisky horses, escaped from pasture, persistently stopped the Pennsylvania Railroad northbound express this evening by running ahead of the train in a long tunnel. Engineer Roberts noticed the horses on the track as he pulled out of the suburbs of Appearing to enjoy a race with the train, the tooting of the whistle failed to scare them from the track, and for a long distance the singular spectacle was presented of a fast train preceded by two splendid horses going at breakneck speed.

Twice the train was stopped and the horses chased away, but each time the animals returned. The big tunnel between Pettsville and St. Clair was finally reached. through which the horses sped with the engine close behind, the whistle screeching continually. At St. Clair the horses wer still galloping ahead, and it was necessary to lasso them to give the train a clear right of way

ANTI-ITALIAN RIOTS.

Mob Tries to Drive Foreigners From

City-Serious Trouble Expected. STERLING, Ill., June 6.—Fifty citizens made an attempt last night to drive the Italian residents from this city, but so far have been unsuccessful. The affair, which resulted in a riot, started on an electric car. Five Italians were on the car, and with stones and clubs the Americans went after the foreigners. The latter pulled revolvers and knives and were ejected from the car. At 2 o'clock this morning the place where the foreigners sleep was surrounded by a mob of fifty men, but before their arrival the Italians had left the house. They were later discovered in the shadow of a tree and were driven from the city. The crowd returned later to the house and with clubs and stones every window was smashed, the doors broken down and the furniture broken into pieces.

The police have been authorized to proteo the fifty Italians who are still in the city This evening Ralph Walker, 12 years old, was attacked by three Italians, knocked down and badly injured. The assault has aroused more feeling, and an open war is now predicted.

the bridge and wrecked it, and the structure and five cars went into the river. The trainmen were on other parts of the train and none was in jured.

WAS CLOTHED FOR A POTIC COLD. Heat Proves Too Much for a Man Who Wore Four Coats and Other Things.

Patrolman Albrecht of the Jamaica precinct found a man at Franklin and Fultor streets, Jamaica, early last evening, appar ently unconscious from the heat, and had him removed to the Jamaica Hospital. There it was found that besides the overcoat which the man wore he also had on three ordinary undercoats and his legs were swathed in bandages for varicose veins.

He revived long enough under treatment to say he was William Lee, 35 years old, of 400 West Fifty-third street, Manhattan. He is in a serious condition.

KUROKI'S ARMY HAS RESUMED ITS ADVANCE.

Russians Report a Victory in One of the Daily Engagements-Rumor of a Loss of Four Japanese Ships at Port Arthur -Land Force Advancing on the Fortress Along Both Coasts of the Peninsula.

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUE. LONDON, June 7 .-- A despatch to the Telegraph from Shongtaitse says that heavy artillery firing was heard this morning in the direction of Tahwan, east of Liaoyang. Natives report that the Japanese First Army is advancing and fighting daily. Hundreds of Russian wounded are arriving at Tashichao.

A despatch from St. Petersburg says that Gen. Kouropatkin has now been reenforced by 48,000 of the Fourth Siberian Army Corps, bringing the total available force at Liaoyang up to 200,000 men.

TIENTSIN, June 6 .- The Russians have evacuated Sinminting (western Manchuria) and are said to be joining the troops en route to Mukden. Heavy firing was heard at Kinchau this morning. The Japanese movements are unknown here.

KOUROPATKIN REPORTS A VICTORY. St. Petersburg, June 6 .- Gen. Kouropatkin telegraphs the Czar: "On June 3 Cossacks were fired on by Japanese infantry occupying a fortified position on the heights near Kuotelaputse. thirteen miles west of Fengwangcheng. The Japanese attempted to advance across the valley of the Koaulindzyk-ho, but were stopped by the accurate fire of our field guns. which the Cossacks succeeded in placing in position.

"The Cossacks dismounted and, with the aid of reenforcements and the fire from two guns, forced the Japanese to abandon their position and fall back under cover of their supports. The engagement lasted from 1 to 6 P. M.

"On the Japanese side six companies took part in the fusillade, four companies having arrived as reenforcements. The entrenchments on the enemy's positions were well constructed and were carefully and perfectly masked. Our cavalry and guns worked admirably. Their fire contributed principally to our success.

*Our losses were the gallant Cossack Chief Strakoff, killed, and two officers and eleven Cossacks wounded. The Japanese osses were not ascertained definitely, but they were large." KOUROPATEIN MOVES SOUTH.

A telegram from one of the foreign military attachée with the Russian army announces that Gen. Kouropatkin and his staff went to-day by railway to a point between Haicheng and Taschichae, sixty versts south of L'aoyang.

Another Japanese army is landing on the east coast of the Liaotung penimeula, with the view to counteracting a Russian advance from Tashichao on Gen. Oku's rear. Cossacks are keeping in touch with the Japanese outposts, while another force is watching Gen. Kuroki's right wing to the north of the Yalu River. The health of the troops is everywhere remarkable. This is believed to be due to the Russian diet, which consists principally of bread made of coarse flour and soup of meat and vegetables. Ordinary water is seldom if ever drunk. Several of the attachés have been allowed to go southward. Some expect to join the Cossacks who are in touch with the
